

Rare Art Deco Sconce / Ceiling lamp By Sabino, 1930

Extremely rare and as far as we know one-of-a-kind Art Deco Sconce by Marius-Ernest SABINO from a 1930s restaurant in Paris.

From a set of 9 sconces we got, the set of eight has been sold, this sconce is now the only one available. Comprised of glass with a brass base, there are no fixations around the base. The sconce is turned to lock in place. The glass shows a diamond-point engraved Sabino Paris signature.

The lamp includes three 15w light bulbs, which total 45 watts but can accept 3x25w as well.

The glass has a majestic texture, evoking the feeling of droplets of water, frozen in time.

It includes one removable frosted glass diffuser between the bulbs and glass to get this warm color.

It has been rewired for the U.S. with brass hardware and may be used as either wall sconces or ceiling lamps.

The base has been fully redone, polished and refinished.
